THE BEE'S ANNUAL TRIP TO MAMMOTH CAVE

Will Take Place the Last Week in August---Via Evansville and Green River

EXACT DATE TO BE ANNOUNCED LATER

The Semi-Weekly Bee will send seven young ladies from Hopkins County to the Mammoth Cave by way of Evansville and Green River the last week in August and pay all expenses of the trip from the time they leave Earlington until they return one week later. Last August we took thirty-five and sent five free. This year we have arranged to send seven free and take fifty in the party. The steamer "City of Evansville" will belong to the Semi-Weekly Bee's party on this trip and we expect to have a grand time. There is no other way in which a week of travel and sight seeing can be had so comfortably and at the same time so cheap as a four hundred mile trip on beautiful Green River with the magnificent scenery along the route; to say nothing of the Cave, one of the seven wonders of the World with its immense grottoes, and domes, the giant causeway, the ruins of Carnack and the wonderful ride on Echo river, are well worth the time and trouble it will take to secure this free trip.

HOW THE TRIP MAY BE SECURED

To the seven young ladies who are residents of Hopkins County and who receive the highest number of votes from now until the close of the contest in August given for securing subscribers for this paper new or renew we will give this trip absolutely free and furnish a suitable chaperone to take charge of them and look after their comfort and safety while on the trip.

Each contestant will be started with 1000 complimentary votes and for each dollar turned in on subscription we will allow 1000 votes.

There will be printed in each issue of the paper a coupon good for 25 votes, clip these out and vote them before the date of expiration printed on each coupon.

NOMINATING COUPON

The following is a nominating coupon, write the name of your candidate on this blank and bring or send it to this office and we will start the candidate with 1000 complimentary votes. As soon as you have nominated a young lady go to work for her and keep it up until the end of the contest.

All contestants will be provided with receipt books and all the extra copies of the paper they need. They will be authorized to use the Bee's premium list namely the two books, "Sinking of the Titanic" and "The Vulture's Claw" also the Patent Tension Shears, any of the three go for fifty cents extra with the paper and contestants will be allowed 500 votes on each premium used.

BESSIE JONES COMMITS SUICIDE

Seventeen Year Old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Jones Takes Own Life

ILL HEALTH GIVEN AS CAUSE

Bessie the seventeen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton Jones, of Madisonville, committed suicide Friday morning about 11 o'clock by drinking carbolic acid. She had been in ill health for some time and this is thought to have been the cause of her rash act. No intimation was given that she contemplated the deed, she performed her daily duties as usual on this day and complained of feeling ill, her mother suggested that she rest awhile. She went to her room and when her mother came to the room a few moments later her daughter was gasping for breath and died a short time afterward. The funeral services were held from the residence Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, interment at Grapevine. Rev. W. J. Mahoney officiating,

Hail at Mannington Kills Colt

A heavy wind and hail storm struck the Mannington country Friday and the hail fell in great chunks. Colts, geese and chickens were knocked on the head and killed. All window lights in the boarding cars on the siding were smashed, the hail came through the roof of several houses that were covered with rubber roofing. Browder Myers the well-known traveling salesman picked up a lump of the hail and measured it, it was found to be eight inches in circumference and weighed three quarters of a pound.

Ilsey Happenings

Ben Salmon is in Louisville this week attending the Democratic State Convention.

Harvey Keys and wife have returned from a visit to relatives in Christian County.

Bill Hammonds is still on the town.

Rufe Majors is now proprietor of the Ilsey Hotel, "vice" John Harland resigned.

Rastus says he proposes to feed the boys on "neck steak" and Hound dog sausage.

R. J. S. was fined the usual amount of half bushel of meat, in Jack Johnson court last week for talking after Wiley Lovell.

Ernest Gipson was overcome by heat Wednesday night and was found unconscious near the pop stand and rescued by Jeff Russell who carried him home in the patrol wagon.

Roving bands of Gypsies have infested this part of the country for the past three weeks. They have been unusually active in fortune telling, robbing etc. One of their women fortune tellers searched Buck Fox and Hiram Brummer at the blacksmith shop last Monday. We hear they snatched nothing but a twist of Hill Billy tobacco from H. B. and a beer puller from Buckman. Jim Renshaw says he objects to being searched while courting new ground, as a man is naturally in a bad humor while so engaged.

Rumor has it that Rufe Majors has made a fortune ploughing gardens.

It is reported that Tom H. is working odd times on another dirk.

C. E. Weldon was here Friday and set up the pop to the boys. He represents Turk Gudry Grocery, Co., of Paducah.

White City Notes

Mrs A. W. Raymer and children visited in Earlington this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Morgan left Saturday for Dawson Springs where they will remain a week visiting relatives.

Andrew Hopper left this week for Carbondale where he expects to reside in the future.

Fred Gatlin, of Stailey, was in White City Saturday.

Mrs Lum Stinson was in Morton's Gap last Friday.

The condition of John Pidcock remains unchanged.

Gardening seems to be the order of the day in our little city.

The Kintuck Coal Co. will shortly install two new coal cutting machines in their mines.

Our good friend Mr. Doome has enriched himself by the purchase of a fine cow last week.

Some of our prominent citizens expect to "ride the goat" at Morton's Gap Tuesday night.

If your correspondent has been correctly informed, our school at Moss Hill will be taught by Pratt Bailey and Miss Lula Allen.

The school house at Moss Hill will be enlarged shortly to accommodate the increased number of pupils.

There has been a lot of improvement in the way of fencing in White City recently which adds greatly to appearance of the place.

We understand our friend Eugene Keiley who came here recently from Earlington has returned to that place.

The denizens of our little hamlet are among the most peaceful and quiet of people in Kentucky, with naught to disturb them, not even the wlp roaring of Teddy the rough rider hot shot from Taft or the deliveries of "Big Ollie" in behalf of "Champ the ex-Kentuckian" or any of the champaign dope. So we are resting easy willing to let the big fellows fight it out.

A great deal of talk is being done in regard to building a church house here. The sooner the better for the Morals, and the spirituality of our people.

Lame back is usually caused by rheumatism of the muscles of the back, for which you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by All Dealers.

NO MORE PRIVATE CARS ON ILLINOIS GENERAL

Continuation of Democratic Policy

Chicago, May 14.—The Illinois Central Railroad System, pursuing its policy of democracy, is changing the inscription "Private," which has heretofore appeared on the doors of cars used by officials of the Illinois Central in traveling over the road, to "Office Car."

President Markham says that the word "Private" is a misnomer so far as it lutes the purpose for which the cars on his line are employed. He says: "The cars on the Illinois Central used by the officials are not in the slightest sense the saucy which the word 'Private' implies. They are 'Office Cars,' pure and simple, and used for the same purpose as the offices in the general headquarters at Chicago—to transact business with the public and our employees. The cars in question are in reality offices set on wheels, where the business of the company in its internal relations, as well as with the public, is conducted in practically as great a volume and with as much regularity as in the home offices of the respective officials who are assigned the cars. On this account, the words 'Office Car' will convey the true purpose for which the cars are constructed, and not set up in the mind of anyone the impression that the cars are used exclusively for the private advantage of the individuals occupying same."

"We thus hope to banish any feeling of timidity which may exist in the mind of an individual having business with our officials upon entering these cars."

In traveling, officers will carry stenographers and clerks, maps and records for general business purposes.

Employment for Locomotive Engineers

Immediate Effect of Great Kidney Remedy is Soon Realized

In March 1905, I was troubled with severe pains in my back and left side but did not think it was anything serious until last September. I got so bad that I was obliged to seek medical aid. It seemed as if I was suffering almost a living death with hard straining and burning pains after each call, and I would have from five to six calls during the night. I had almost given up to die, when I happened to think of trying Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. My husband bought me a bottle and I began to improve from the first dose. When I had taken two bottles I was completely cured.

Yours very truly,

Feminine Curiosity.

Little Eleanor's pretty cousin wore a new engagement ring, and the budding woman regarded the ring and the giver alike with reverent eyes. One night when the happy man has been invited to Eleanor's home for dinner, Eleanor, unconsciously gushing, burst forth with: "Oh, Mr. Blank, do please tell me. In all the love stories I've read the men propose so sudden. When it's coming on, does it—does it feel anything like a sneeze?"

Reasoning Power Lacking in Apes.

Apes do not count further than four, and the Boers of the Transvaal, when they hunt these animals, hide in numbers exceeding four. Four depart in succession in such a manner as to be noticed by the apes, who then come forth and are easily captured.

Lively as a Boy.

If you are tired, run down, have no appetite, get a bottle of Yuentan Chill Tonic. A few doses will set you up—give you a boy's appetite—make you strong and lively as a twelve-year-old. Purifies the blood and strengthens the system. 50c a bottle at the St. Bernard Mining Co., Incorporated, Drug Department.

Furniture Polish.

Many people do not know that lemon oil is the basis of all fine furniture polishes. A small bottle of polish usually costs 25 cents. You can buy a quart of crude lemon oil in bulk at a paint shop for 15 cents. For using on furniture proper, dilute with one-third turpentine, apply with a soft rag, and you will have the finest polish you could buy. It is fine to use on hard wood, stained or painted floors. A quart of oil will last nearly two months.

Miss Minerva and William Green Hill

By ANCES BOYD CALHOUN

right by Betty & Britton Co.

"Naw; I ain't got a red cent." "I'll tell you what we'll do," suggested Jimmy; "we'll trade you a baseball mask for him. My mama's going to gimme a new mask 'cause I all time stay at home, so we'll trade you our old one. Go get it, Billy."

Thus commanded Billy ran and picked up the bustle where it lay neglected on the grass, and handed it to the quasi-owner of the puppy. The deal was promptly closed and a black little negro went grinning down the street with Miss Minerva's ancient bustle tied across his face, leaving behind him a curly-haired dog.

"Ain't he sweet?" said Jimmy, hugging the fluffy white ball close to his breast, "we got to name him, Billy."

"Le's name her Peruny Pearline," was the suggestion of the other joint owner.

"He ain't going to be name' nothing at all like that," declared Jimmy; "you all time got to name our dogs the scalawaggest name they is. He's going to be name' 'Sam Lamb.' 'Sam' cause he's my partner."

"She's a girl dog," argued Billy, "an' she can't be name' no man's name. If she could I'd call her Major."

"I don't care what sort o' dog he is, girl or boy, he's going to be name' 'Sam Lamb.' Pretty Sam! Pretty Sam!" and he fondly stroked the little animal's soft head.

"Here, Peruny! Here, Peruny!" and Billy tried to snatch her away.

The boys heard a whistle; the dog heard it too. Springing from the little boy's arms Sam Lamb Peruny Pearline ran under the gate and flew to meet her master, who was looking for her.

CHAPTER XXV,

Education and Its Perils. It was a warm day in early August and the four children were sitting contentedly in the swing. They met almost every afternoon now, but were generally kept under strict surveillance by Miss Minerva.

"T won't be long 'fore we'll all hafta go to school," remarked Frances, "and I'll be mighty sorry; I wish we didn't ever hafta go to any old school."

"I wish we knew how to read an' write when we're born," said Billy. "If I was God I'd make all my babies so's they's already dedicated when they git born. Rockin' if we'd pray ev'ry night an' ask God, he'd learn them babies what he's makin' on now how to read an' write."

"I don't care nothing at all 'bout them babies," put in Jimmy, "t ain't going to do us no good if all the new babies what Doctor Sanford finds can read and write; it'd jes' make 'em the sassiest things ever was. 'Sides, I got plenty things to ask God for 'bout fooling long ether folks' brats and I ain't going to meddle with God's business nohow."

"Did you all hear what Miss Larimore, who teaches the little children at school, said about us?" asked Lina importantly.

"Naw," they observed, "what was it?"

"She told the superintendent," was the reply of Lina, pleased with herself and with that big word, "that she would have to have more money next year, for she heard that Lina Hamilton, Frances Black, William Hill and Jimmy Garner were all coming to school, and she said we were the most notorious bad children in town."

"She is the spitefullest woman they is," Jimmy's black eyes snapped; "she 'bout the meddlesomest teacher in town."

"Who told you 'bout it, Lina?" questioned the other little girl.

"The superintendent told his wife and you know how some ladies are—they just can't keep a secret. Now it is just like burying it to tell mother anything; she never tells anybody but father, and grandmother, and grandfather, and Uncle Ed, and Brother Johnson, and she makes them promise never to breathe it to a living soul. But the superintendent's wife is different; she tells everything she hears, and now everybody knows what that teacher said about us."

"Everybody says she is the crankiest teacher they is," cried Jimmy, "she won't let you bring nothing to school 'cepting your books; you can't even take your slingshot, nor your air-gun, nor—"

"Nor your dolls," chimed in Frances, "and she won't let you eat your eye, nor say a word, nor cross your legs, nor blow your nose."

loud, an' he th'owed spitballs, an' he make him some watermelon teeth, an' he paint a chicken light red an' tuck it to the teacher fer a dodo, an' he put cotton in his pants 'fore he got ticked, an' he drawed the teacher on a slate. That's what you go to school fer is to have fun, an' sho' is goin' to have fun when I goes, an' I ain't goin' to take no bulldozin' offer her, neither."

"I bet we can squeach her," cried Frances, vindictively.

"Yes, we'll show her a thing or two"—for once Jimmy agreed with her, "she 'bout the butt-in-est old woman they is, and she's going to find out we 'bout the squelchingest kids ever she tackle."

"Alfred Gage went to school to her last year," said Frances, "and he can read and write."

"Yes," joined in Jimmy, "and he 'bout the proudest boy they is; all time got to write his name all over everything."

"You 'member 'bout last Communion Sunday," went on the little girl, "when they hand roun' the little envelopes and telled all the folks what was willing to give five dollars more on the pastor's sal'y just to write his name; so Alfred be so frisky 'cause he know how to write; so he taken one of the little envelopes and written 'Alfred Gage' on it; so when his papa find out 'bout it he say that kid got to work and pay that five dollars hi'self, 'cause he done sign his name to it."

"And if he ain't 'bout the sickest kid they is," declared Jimmy; "I'll betcher he won't get fresh no more soon. He told me the other day he hadn't had a drink of soda water this summer, 'cause every nickel he gets got to go to Mr. Pastor's sal'y; he says he plumb tired supporting Brother Johnson and all his family; and he say, every time he go up town he sees Johnny Johnson a-settin' on a stool in Baltzer's drug store just at swigging milk-shakes; he says he going to knock him off some day 'cause it's his nickels that kid is a spending."

There was a short silence, broken by Billy, who remarked, apropos of nothing:

"I she' is glad I don't hafer be a woman when I puts on long pants; mens is heap mo' account."

"I wouldn't be a woman for nothing at all," Jimmy fully agreed with him; "they have the pokiest time they is."

"I'm glad I am going to be a young lady when I grow up," Lina declared. "I would n't be a gentleman for anything. I'm going to wear pretty clothes and be beautiful and be a belle like mother was, and have lots of lovers kneel at my feet on one knee and play the guitar with the other—"

"How they goin' to play the guitar with the other knee?" asked the practical Billy.

"And sing 'Call Me Thine Own,'" she continued, ignoring his interruption. "Father got on his knees to that the two little boys did not know a soul in their car.

But when they were nearing Woodstock, a little station not far from Memphis, Sam Lamb, making a tour of the cars, came into their coach and was promptly hailed by the children. When he recognized them, he burst into such a roar of laughter that it caused all the other passengers to turn around and look in their direction.

"What y'all gwine to do nex' I jes' wonder," he exclaimed. "Yo' ekals ain't made dis sile o' t'ernity. Lordee, Lordee," he gazed at them admiringly, "yo' sho' is genoowin' corn-fed, sterlin' silver, all-wool-an'-a-yard-wide, pure-leaf, Green-River Lollapaloozas. Does yo' folks know 'bout yer? Lordee! What I axin' sech a fool question fer? 'Course dey don't. Come on, I gwine to take y'all off 'm dese cars right here at dis Woodstock, an' we kin ketch de 'commodeation back home."

"But Sam," protested Billy, "We don't want to go back home. We wants to go to Memphis."

"Hit don't matter what y'all wants," was the negro's reply, "y'all gotta git right off. Dis-here 'scursion train don't leave Memphis twell twelve o'clock tonight an' yuh see how slow she am runnin', and ev'y no 'count nigger on her 'll be full o' red eye. An' yo' folks is plumb 'stracted 'bout yer dis minute, I tow. Come on. Sho am gittin' ready to stop."

He grabbed the blackened hand of each, pushing Jimmy and pulling Billy, and towed the reluctant little boys through the coach.

"Yuh sho' is sp'iled my fun," he growled as he hustled them across the platform to the waiting-room. "Dis-here 's de fus' 'scursion train I been on widout Suky a-jaggin' long. In five year I almos' fo' to roll 'em high; an' now, 'case o' ketchin' up wid y' l, I gotta go right back home. Now y'all set jes' as straight as yer kin set on dis here bench," he admonished, "whilst I send a telegram to Marse Jeane Garner. An' don' yuh try to lop out on de platform nelder. Set whar I kin keep my eye skinned on yuh, yuh little slipp'ry-ellum eels. Den I gwine to come back an' wash yer, so y'all look like 'spectable white' folks."

Miss Minerva came out of her front door looking for Billy at the same time that Mrs. Garner appeared on her porch in search of Jimmy.

"William You William!" called one woman.

"Jimmee-eel O Jimmee-eel!" called the other.

"Have you seen my nephew?" asked the one.

"No. Have you seen anything of Jimmy?" was the reply of the other.

"They were talking together at the fence about an hour ago," said Billy's aunt. "Possibly they are down at the livery stable with Sam Lamb; I 'll phone and find out."

"And I 'll ring up Mrs. Black and Mrs. Hamilton. They may have gone to see Lina and Frances."

In a short time both women appeared on their porches again:

"They have not been to the stable this morning," said Miss Minerva easily, "and Sam went to Memphis on the excursion train."

"And they are not with Lina or Frances,"—Mrs. Garner's face wore an anxious look. "I declare I never saw two such children. Still, I don't think we need worry as it is nearly dinner time, and they never miss their meals, you know."

But the noon hour came and with it no hungry little boys. Then, indeed, did the relatives of the children grow uneasy. The two telephones were kept busy, and Mr. Garner, with several other men on horseback, scoured the village. Not a soul had seen either child.

At three o'clock Miss Minerva, worn with anxiety and on the verge of a collapse, dropped into a chair on her veranda, her faithful Major by her side. He had come to offer help and sympathy as soon as he heard of her distress, and, finding her in such a softened, dependent and receptive mood, the Major had remained to try to cheer her up.

Mr. and Mrs. Garner were also on the porch, discussing what further steps they could take.

"It is all the fault of that William of yours," snapped one little boy's mother to the other little boy's aunt. "Jimmy is the best child in the world when he is by himself, but he is easily led into mischief."

Miss Minerva's face blazed with indignation.

"William's fault indeed!" she answered back. "There never was a sweeter child than William;" for the lonely woman knew the truth at last.

At the thought that her little nephew might be hurt, a long forgotten tenderness stirred her bosom and she realized for the first time how the child had grown into her life.

The telephone came.

"They are all right," shouted Mr. Garner joyously, as he quickly opened and read the yellow missive, "they went on the excursion and Sam Lamb is bringing them home on the accommodation."

As the major, short, plump, rubicund, jolly, and Miss Minerva, tall, sallow, angular, solemn, were walking to the station to meet the train that was bringing home the runaways, the elderly lover knew himself to be at last master of the situation.

"The trouble with Billy—" he began, adjusting his steps to Miss Minerva's mincing walk.

"William," she corrected faintly.

DARE DEVIL OF THE AIR

Lincoln Beachey to Fly at Evansville
June 6, 7 and 8

One of the famous birdmen at the Aviation Circus to be held in Evansville June 6, 7 and 8, under the direction of the Evansville Courier, will be Lincoln Beachey, the dare-devil navigator of the air. He started the world last summer by hisfeat offflying over the gorge and under the bridge at Niagara Falls. Of a performance at Los Angeles this winter, the Los Angeles Times says: Lincoln Beachey, who has been the one particular dare-devil of the present meet, yesterday flaunted his challenge to gravitation and death in the eyes of the populace. During periods when the wind was blowing a gale he would mount into the air and perform stunts that were weird in their very recklessness.

Another daring aeronaut to be seen at the Evansville meet is Farnum Fish, youngest licensed air pilot in the world. A third is Horace Kearney, an equally celebrated flyer.

The Courier promises the greatest show of aerial races and spectacular feats ever seen in this part of the country.

POSTIVE PROOF

Should Convince the Greatest Skeptic in Earlington

Because it's the evidence of an Earlington citizen.

Testimony easily investigated.

The strongest endorsement of merit.

The best proof. Read it:

Mrs. M. Cauley, Earlington, Ky., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills in our family and have found them very good. Whenever we have kidney trouble and pains in the back, a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills cure the difficulty. They are also good for children to use. I can highly recommend this remedy."

"When your back is lame—Remember the Name." Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Cauley had—the remedy backed by home testimony.

Whence the Unrest.

One who was closely connected with the Roosevelt administration at Washington says: "I think Mr. Roosevelt the most fascinating man I ever met, and I love him, but—Not long ago he said to me, 'There is trouble ahead for everybody, unless the people are quieted. There is great unrest throughout the land.'"

"I replied, 'Mr. Roosevelt, the unrest in this country is only what you and political talkers like you are making by your addresses to the people, denouncing policies, and parties, and persons, and inviting everybody into a condition of unrest. That's all there is to this unrest you talk of.'"

"And Theodore look at me as though he no longer recognized my affection."

Sold Wife to Friend.

At the village of Uznach, Switzerland, the other day, a curious sale took place. With her own consent a woman was sold by her husband to another man, an Italian, and a friend of the Swiss couple. The price asked by the affectionate husband was four dollars. To further "legalize" the bargain, the Italian procured two witnesses to the transaction and had a contract written on stamped government paper.
